Gale in San Francisco.

A heavy east gale sweeping along the coast at a registered velocity of 48 miles an hour struck San Francisco yesterday and resulted in the death of a laborer and severe injury to several others, who were caught by a falling wall. Shipping in the harbor was damaged considerably and in all quarters of the city walls were hurled to the ground, blockading streets ruins were toppied over.

On the bay the storm was terrific. The ferryboats, proceeding with extraordinary caution, were toased about until scores of passengers were made ill. The lower decks were awash most of the time and occasionally the creat of a wave leaped onto the hurricane decks.
